Greetings Fair Barony,

As your Chroniclers it is our duty to pass on news, announcements and information about the Barony but this can only be done if you send the information to us. You may have noticed how scarce the Fewmet has become, this is because we need you to send articles to us so we can include them in the Fewmet.

Please, if you can just take a moment of your time to submit a piece. It doesn't have to be a thesis paper as a small paragraph would be sufficient and then we can bring the Fewmet back to its previous glory.

Sincerely,
Sorcha & Donal

Tournament of the White Hart

Shire of Port Oasis

February 27 - March 1, 2009

<http://www.portoasis.org/events.html>

This year's event will include not only the infamous Heavy Weapons Tourney with the Ladies Gallery to inspire the most chivalric fighters, and a challenging Fencing Tourney that has been designed to test the gallant bravery of our fencers. Master Robert the Grey has designed a Roving Range to tantalize our skilled archers. And furthermore something new this year, we are offering the first White Hart Thrown Weapons Tourney which has been designed by THL Alaxandair O'Conchabhair which he promises will test your mind and mettle.

If marshaled arts are not to your favor, there will also be an Arts and Science display so bring your arts and show off what you love to do. If you have no finished work to display, bring a current project and share your knowledge.

A sumptuous feast is being prepared by Zofia Piotrowska and Faolan Dubh mac Lochlainn, We have been privileged to taste several dishes and we know you are in for a treat. Feast is limited to 70. Direct any dietary concerns to Melissa_hoburg@yahoo.com. The site is discreetly damp, period containers please. Open flames are permitted in the feast hall.

Minohi (the festival of the snake)

Barony-Marche of Debatable Lands (Allison Park, PA)

February 28, 2009

<http://yamakaminari.com/minohi>

When the harsh Lady of winter, Yuki-Onna, lays her bleak mantle over the land, join Their Sylvan Majesties, Christopher and Morgen, as they celebrate Mi-no-Hi, the Japanese midwinter Festival of the Snake.

Come one, come all as the year and the fervor of warriors and artists are renewed in friendly competition. Fighters and fencers, bring your blades and purify them in the cold fire of battle and be rewarded with treasures from the Silk Road and beyond. Good gentles come display your talents in venues of costuming, bardic, and artistic contest. Indulge in the ceremony of tea and view Asian fashions on display. Bring the whole clan to rejoice in the warm heart of Aethelmearc's oriental splendor whilst winter spends her fury outside.

SONNET 57

by William Shakespeare

Being your slave what should I do but tend,
Upon the hours, and times of your desire?
I have no precious time at all to spend;
Nor services to do till you require.
Nor dare I chide the world-without-end hour,
Whilst I (my sovereign) watch the clock for you,
Nor think the bitterness of absence sour,
When you have bid your servant once adieu.
Nor dare I question with my jealous thought,
Where you may be, or your affairs suppose,
But like a sad slave stay and think of nought
Save where you are, how happy you make those.
So true a fool is love, that in your will,
(Though you do any thing) he thinks no ill.

Shakespeare
